A quarterly newsletter for Duquesne University students Volume 7 • 3rd Quarter 2010

WELCOME CLASS OF 2014

According to the Office of Admissions, the incoming class of 2014 is one of the best academically prepared and most ethnically diverse. Since 2008, minority freshman enrollment has increased by more than 30 percent. In addition, approximately 25 percent of this year's freshmen are Duquesne legacies, whose relatives have attended the University. The freshman class exceeds 1,430 students who represent more than 30 states and 15 countries. More than 97 percent of this class reported the University as their first or second choice for higher education.

STUDENT ORIENTATION

We're LIVE! Your Series Starts NOW! was the theme for this year's Orientation and was centered on the concept of new students beginning a new series here at Duquesne with parallels to a television series. With much planning and deliberation, the Orientation staff ensured that the new students would be captivated and feel welcomed to the Duquesne Family from the moment they stepped onto campus.

CATCH THE SPIRIT...GET INVOLVED!

This year, the Student Government Association is implementing a "Catch the Spirit...Get Involved!" campaign. We are encouraging every Duquesne student to get involved in at least one organization. According to research, "Campus involvement not only relates to ACADEMIC SUCCESS, but also to IDENTITY ACHIEVEMENT, SATISFACTION, etc., with the college experience." Students will also get to know many people around campus and make many new friends by joining different organizations. We believe that because students are only at Duquesne for a short amount of time, they should make the most of it!

Members of the Student Government Association have been handing out "Get Involved" buttons since the beginning of the school year. If you have not received one, please stop by the SGA Office (302 Duquesne Union). Be sure to get one and wear it proudly to show your support for Duquesne and campus life. Faculty and staff are also encouraged to wear a button to promote this initiative and use this theme to recruit involvement in campus life. Together, we can have the entire Duquesne community involved in "Catching the Spirit."

The Orientation week featured the traditional Graffiti Dance, motivational speaker Fran Kick, comedian Buzz Sutherland, illusionist Craig Karges, and the talents of their peers and the Dueling Pianos. Along with all of these events, students had the opportunity to eat lunch with other peers in their schools as well as faculty and Deans.

One of the largest events for this year's Orientation was the attempt to break the World Record for Largest Dodgeball game. The game took place on Rooney Field with 918 students in participation and media coverage from not only Duquesne University but also the local news stations, KDKA and WPXI. Before this game, the record was 714, so according to our records, the new Fall 2010 students successfully broke the record for the World's Largest Dodgeball game.

PRE-ORIENTATION PROGRAMS FOR COMMUTERS, MULTICULTURAL STUDENTS

The Office of Multicultural Affairs, along with 23 Student Leaders/Peer Mentors, coordinated the Office of Multicultural Affairs Pre-Orientation Program on Aug. 16-17 for incoming students of diverse backgrounds and their parents. During this free two-day event, 65 students were provided the opportunity to develop meaningful relationships with a wide range of student leaders, faculty/staff, and Duquesne alumni. The Pre-Orientation program included interactive panel discussions, a bus tour of the Historic Hill District, a catered dinner with DU Alumni, and several community-building activities.

Over 100 new students attended Commuter Pre-Orientation on Tuesday, Aug. 17. The pre-orientation program assisted commuting students in getting to know their Commuter Assistant, the Office of Commuter Affairs staff, other commuter students and the campus. Commuter Pre-Orientation was an information-packed day which helped provide new students with the necessary tools to become active and participating members of the Duquesne community.

ENERGY FORUM

The Duquesne University Student Government Association and PUMP (Pittsburgh Urban Magnet Project) hosted the 2010 Pittsburgh Energy Forum on Sept. 2. The Energy Forum was organized to provide primarily young and upcoming professionals the opportunity to hear first hand from federal and state energy policy makers and experts. This interactive panel discussion covered topics ranging from energy policy reform, the Marcellus Shale, and the possible environmental and economic impact that a changing energy market will have on Southwestern Pennsylvania and the nation as a whole. Featured panelists at this event included: John K. Baillie, Senior Attorney, Citizens for Pennsylvania's Future; Congressman Mike Doyle, D-Pennsylvania's 14th Congressional District; John Hanger, Secretary of the Pennsylvania Department of Environmental Protection; and Dennis Yablonsky, CEO, Allegheny Conference on Community Development & Energy Alliance of Greater Pittsburgh.

PARKING TIPS

The lot adjacent to the Power Center and the area under the Locust Garage (on Gibbon Street) are surface permit areas. For more information on additional surface parking on campus, please visit Parking [link to www.duq.edu/parking] and click on campus maps.

Valet parking in the garage is a complimentary service provided to both students and employees to assure guaranteed parking on campus. To help make the valet process work for you, please follow these instructions:

- When the Forbes Garage is full, Forbes leaseholders can cross over to the Locust Garage.
- Once the Locust Garage is full, attendants at both the Locust entrance and Forbes Crossover will direct permit holders to the valet parking level.
- Several attendants on that level will direct vehicles on where to park.
- After parking, drivers will leave their keys with the attendant and receive a numbered token.
- Drivers will be instructed by the attendant to pick up their keys on the same floor that they parked on (before 2:30 p.m.) or at the Locust entrance booth (after 2:30 p.m.)
- After 8:00 p.m., keys can be picked up at the Forbes Garage exit booth.

ANNOUNCING THE STUDENT ORGANIZATION RESOURCE CENTER (SORC)

A Student Organization Resource Center (SORC) has been constructed in Union 338A. The SORC is a place where student organizations can go to get their work done. Paid for by the Student Government Association, the SORC includes computers and printers, phones, a copier, Ellison Machine, and a variety of office products. Student organizations can access the SORC by obtaining the key from the Union Information Center.

VATICAN SPLENDORS

A JOURNEY THROUGH FAITH AND ART

One of the largest collections of art, documents and historically significant objects from the Vatican to ever tour North America will be on display at the Senator John Heinz History Center from Oct. 2 through Jan. 9, 2011. Duquesne University is one of the community leaders supporting Vatican Splendors: A Journey through Faith and Art.

This exhibit of approximately 200 objects illustrates the Vatican's impact on history and culture through 2,000 years. To enhance the exhibit, special relics and historical documents from the region will be displayed alongside the many objects that have not been seen outside the Vatican.

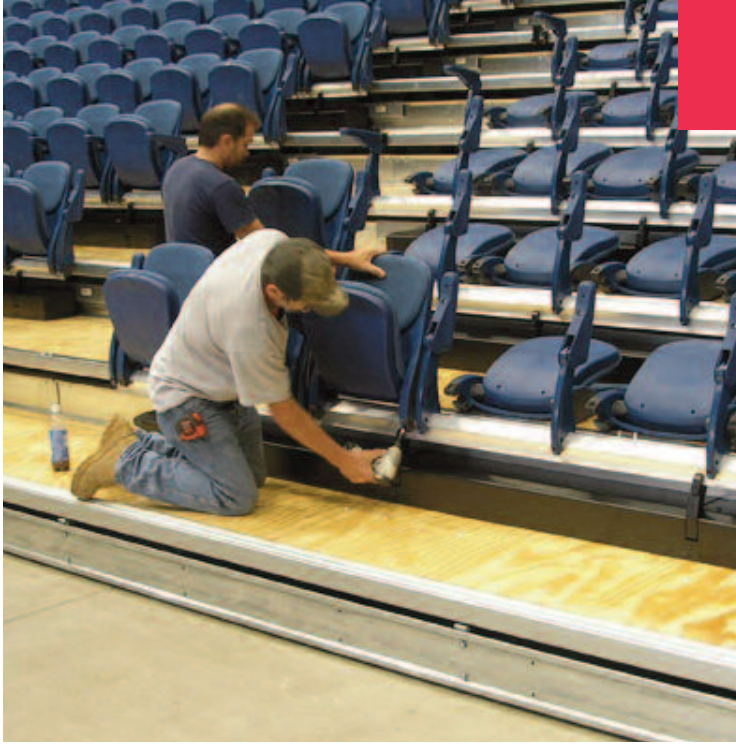

Student and group ticket pricing is available. For more information, visit www.vaticansplendors.com/pittsburgh-tickets.

CENTER FOR STUDENT INVOLVEMENT

The Office of Student Activities has changed its name to the Center for Student Involvement. We are still located in Union 305, but we have recently renovated our office. Come see our new open and welcoming space.

IMPROVED CELL PHONE RECEPTION

In the past, if you ever attempted to make a call from the Union Commuter Lounge or NiteSpot, chances are you never got through. Over the summer we worked with Verizon, AT&T, T-Mobile and Sprint to improve cell phone reception on the first floor of the Union. Cell phone repeaters were installed throughout the floor so students can now call friends and family from anywhere. With any new project, adjustments may need to be made. If you continue to have problems with cell phone reception on the first floor, please e-mail Doug Kukta.

A.J. PALUMBO CENTER UNDERGOES FACELIFT

The A.J. Palumbo Center — home to the Duquesne University basketball and volleyball teams as well as the site of commencement ceremonies and concerts — recently underwent a $1.8 million interior renovation.

Improvements included the installation of chairback seats from top-to-bottom on the north side of the arena and replacement of existing treads, risers and chair backs on the lower level of the south side of the facility. In addition, a custom designed center-hung Daktronics video board and four lower level corner scoreboards have been installed. It is the first extensive renovation of the arena, which opened its doors in November 1988.

UNION HVAC RENOVATIONS

Renovations to the Union heating and cooling system began over the summer. This total renovation of the HVAC system will continue over two years to improve environmental control in the Union.

FOSTERING A STRONG PARTNERSHIP

The Division of Student Life implemented a program of matching all new faculty to a Student Life staff member. The intention of the program is to provide a contact for new faculty and give them information on student life at Duquesne. Student Life staff members meet with a faculty member and give them a welcome bag filled with brochures and assorted memorabilia. The faculty who have met with Student Life staff members have been receptive and grateful. Two faculty members have shared the following thoughts:

"I would definitely say that my time with Annie Mullarkey Sawa was productive and informative. She was able to give me an overview of Student Life, and how faculty members can help. I am excited with the opportunities that are available to faculty members to interact with students outside of the lecture hall."

— Dr. Mike Perry, Professor of Pharmacy

"Any time that you come to a new place, there is always so much to learn. It was great to have a chance to sit one-on-one with Susan Monahan and talk about Student Life. It made a more lasting impression than watching a presentation."

— Dr. Eric Ruggieri, Assistant Professor,

Department of Mathematics and Computer Science

The program supports the University Strategic Plan by continuing to foster intentional collaboration between Student Life and Academic Affairs.

PARENTS WELCOMED TO JUNIOR/SOPHOMORE WEEKEND

Building on the successful tradition of Freshman Parent Weekend, the Division of Student Life is pleased to invite parents of juniors and sophomores back to campus on Nov. 12-14 for a first hand look at their students' living and learning experiences. In addition to reconnecting with each other, students and parents can socialize with other families, engage with the faculty and dean of their student's school, and learn about opportunities for upperclassmen, such as study abroad programs and internships. All families are welcome to attend the Presidential Dinner on Saturday evening, where Duquesne President Charles Dougherty will address the University's latest accomplishments and initiatives. Invitations are coming soon!

WHY GO GREEK?

Going Greek can enhance your college experience and help you connect community and campus life.

SCHOLARSHIP

Greek chapters at Duquesne strive for academic excellence. Various events, such as study tables and scholarship dinners, promote academic achievement. Because each chapter values academics, the GPA of Greek students during the last school year was higher than that of non-Greek students.

LONG-LASTING FRIENDSHIPS

Greek life is a time when friendships and close ties are formed between members through living, working, and studying together. The community built through each chapter is one of support, friendship, shared values, and understanding. Going Greek is a guaranteed way to make friendships within a sorority or fraternity and within the entire Greek community.

SERVICE AND PHILANTHROPY

Each Greek organization is involved on campus and in the community by volunteering their time through service projects and philanthropic events. The philanthropies for each sorority and fraternity are listed under each individual organization at www.duq.edu/greeklife.

LEADERSHIP OPPORTUNITIES

Membership in a Greek organization is a great way to gain experience and knowledge to become a powerful leader. Whether it is for a chapter executive position or as the chair of an event, varieties of opportunities to develop leadership skills are available through each organization. The national fraternity and sorority organizations also sponsor large leadership conferences which provide interaction with other universities.

SOCIAL EVENTS

In addition to community and campus involvement, Greek organizations provide social interaction for their members. Formals and Greek-sponsored events such as Carnival and Greek Week create a fun environment and are a great way to meet different people.

A fraternity and sorority team get together to perform for a crowd during Carnival 2009.

2010 CARNIVAL

Duquesne's fraternities and sororities will participate in the 60th annual Carnival on Oct. 1&2. The annual Carnival serves as an opportunity to promote Greek Unity and celebrate Greek Life's tremendous presence on campus. Fraternity and sorority teams produce and direct their own mini-musical productions. The event is held in the A.J. Palumbo Center to provide entertainment while working to raise money for an amazing philanthropic initiative. This year, all the proceeds raised during Carnival weekend will be donated to the Ronald McDonald House Charities of Pittsburgh. Alumni, parents, faculty and friends are all invited to attend the shows and visit a variety of booths during this fun-filled weekend! A UNIVERSITY OF DISTINCTIONS

Duquesne is distinguished from other universities by more than our Spiritan heritage. For the third consecutive year, we have been ranked by U.S. News & World Report in the top tier of American universities, as one of the top 10 in Pennsylvania and among the top 12 Catholic universities in the nation. We have also earned national accolades for our commitment to community service, innovative programs and sustainability. To learn more, visit www.duq.edu/about/rankings-recognition.cfm.

DU EFFORTS TO IMPROVE SOUTH SIDE

Long known for Carson Street's eclectically-cool vibe with its diversity of shops, theaters, and dining establishments, the South Side is one of Pittsburgh's most popular entertainment districts. Given its close proximity to campus, it's no wonder students choose to live, work, and socialize in the South Side.

As members of the Duquesne University community, students are required to uphold high moral standards, both on and off campus, which includes serving as responsible stewards of the community where they live and visit. For students living in the South Side, it is expected that they serve as a good neighbor both day and night by keeping noise levels down, disposing of garbage and litter that is found in and around their property, and being respectful and courteous to their neighbors.

Another way in which both commuter and resident students can support the South Side is by serving as a participant in volunteer organizations like the South Side Local Development Corporation and the South Side Community Council. Both of these groups are comprised of residents and non-residents that willingly choose to take an active role in maintaining the vibrancy of one of Pittsburgh's most visited neighborhoods. Another opportunity is by taking part in the University's Keep It Clean South Side (KICSS), which meets once a month and is organized by the Center for Student Involvement.

RED AND BLUE CREW

All Duquesne students are encouraged to show their school spirit and join the Red and Blue Crew. Red and Blue Crew members receive a Red & Blue Crew T-Shirt and a ticket to each men's basketball home game. In addition, members will receive various invites to special pre-game functions and promotional items throughout the season. Membership is only $10. Visit for more details.

DUQUESNE UNIVERSITY VOLUNTEERS

The year-end Duquesne University Volunteers' statistics were impressive—over 7,750 students recorded individual and group services. In total, there were 238,210.2 hours of service reported and student organizations raised over $198,230! The Freshman Community Service Project in August had over 350 volunteers cleaning the streets of South Pittsburgh. Our volunteer fair drew over 50 organizations seeking support from students! If interested in volunteering, please stop by the DUV office in 305 Union.

TEAM ACADEMIC AWARDS

The lacrosse and swimming teams were recently honored by their coaches' associations for being among the nation's elite academically. The swimmers were cited by the College Swimming Coaches Association of America (CSCAA), which honored all schools with a 3.00 or higher team grade point average. The Dukes were one of the 128 women's programs honored with a 3.15 team GPA. The lacrosse team was one of 51 institutions recognized by the Intercollegiate Women's Lacrosse Coaches Association (IWLCA) for having a 3.00 or better team GPA. It also honored seven former Duquesne student-athletes for their work in the classroom.
