The Center for Spiritan Studies presents

Christianity and African Identity: Questions of Relevance and Transformation

Rev. Dr. Paulinus Ikechukwu Odozor, C.S.Sp.

Associate Professor of Moral Theology at the Theology of World Church and Africana Studies, University of Notre Dame, Indiana

Tuesday, October 17, 2017
4:30 - 5:30 p.m.
Africa Room | Duquesne University Union
Doors open at 4 p.m.
Reception Immediately Following Lecture

For more information or to RSVP, visit duq.edu/css
Rev. Dr. Paulinus Ikechukwu Odozor, C.S.Sp.

Associate Professor of Moral Theology at the Theory of World Church and Africana Studies, University of Notre Dame, Indiana

Dr. Gerald Boodoo

Associate Professor of Theology and the Rev. Francis Philben, C.S.Sp. Endowed Director of the Center for African Studies, Duquesne University

Dr. Gerald Boodoo, a native of Trinidad & Tobago, is Associate Professor of Theology and the Rev. Francis Philben, C.S.Sp. Endowed Director of the Center for African Studies at Duquesne University. He specializes in theological methods with particular emphasis on the Global South and the Caribbean region. His concerns are to find appropriate ways to engage theological reflection that allow for multiple and varied voices to be heard as ways to enhance contemporary theological endeavor. He has published numerous articles and chapters on theology in the Caribbean. He edited Religion, Human Dignity and Liberation (Sao Leopold: Oikos Editora, 2016). He serves on the international committee of the World Forum on Theology and Liberation, on the executive board of the Conference of Theology in the Caribbean Today, on the editorial board of the Bulletin of Ecumenical Theology, among other international societies. He has served for six years as convener of the World Church Theology Group of the Catholic Theological Society of America.