The Right to an Excellent Education for all Children:

Do We Have the Will?

Wednesday, May 27, 2015, 9:30 a.m. – Noon
Power Center Ballroom, Duquesne University

Youth Conference and Dialogue for 10th and 11th graders with

Dr. Christopher Emdin
Associate Professor, Teachers College, Columbia University and

Jabari Johnson
Winner, Inaugural Science Genius B.A.T.T.L.E.S Competition

Dr. Christopher Emdin serves as director of science education at the Center for Health Equity and Urban Science Education. He partnered with rapper GZA from the Wu Tang Clan and rap.genius.com to develop Science Genius B.A.T.T.L.E.S (Bring Attention to Transforming Teaching, Learning and Engagement in Science), which engages students in science through the creation of rap and their participation in a final rap battle competition.

Sponsored by the Canevin Center for Educational Transformation and Social Justice.

For more information, visit www.duq.edu/sizemore, call 412.396.1852 or email pricem@duq.edu.