The Pennsylvania Medical Cannabis Society (PAMCS) is the recognized voice of Pennsylvania’s emerging medical cannabis industry. We consist of medical cannabis industry professionals working together to: represent the PA medical cannabis industry in the government, the private sector, and the media; to provide members with timely information, expert services, and professional support; and advance medical cannabis policy, and education within the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Vision: Medical cannabis industry professionals, businesses, and patients have safe access to medical cannabis through a clearly defined and well-regulated medical cannabis program in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Mission: PAMCS promotes safe access to high quality, medical cannabis through education and advocacy on behalf of patients and businesses to encourage long-term industry sustainability and economic growth.

Who We Serve: PAMCS is the largest patient-centric, medical cannabis industry trade association that represents a diverse membership of businesses, entrepreneurs, attorneys, physicians, healthcare professionals, caregivers, and patients in the emerging medical cannabis industry in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.
PAMCS accomplishes its’ mission in the following ways

Public policy education and civic engagement: Promote and advocate for a successful, patient-centric, medical cannabis program in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. Our industry experts regularly provide education and information to the medical marijuana working group and key members of the Pennsylvania House of Representatives and State Senate.

Education and professional development for medical cannabis industry entrepreneurs: Provide education, networking and professional development opportunities for businesses, entrepreneurs, physicians and healthcare providers interested in entering the emerging medical cannabis industry in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Cost saving product/service partnerships: For businesses to become successful they need to strategically align themselves with reputable partners. At PAMCS, we are committed to helping businesses connect with partners who meet or exceed these high standards. PAMCS will leverage economies of scale to negotiate group purchasing power, and develop mutually beneficial strategic alliances.

Advocacy at local, state and federal levels: Our team of industry experts understand the issues surrounding medical cannabis at the local, state and federal levels and advocate on behalf of our members to ensure comprehensive representation on a wide variety of topics ranging from banking, and seed to sale tracking, to packaging compliance.

Programs and Services

The Pennsylvania Medical Cannabis Society (PAMCS) has recently partnered with The Medical Cannabis Institute (TMCI). This partnership will provide members with access to an online CME accredited Clinical Cannabinoid Medicine Curriculum. In the burgeoning medical cannabis industry, PAMCS recognizes that part of our role is to educate healthcare professionals, caregivers, and patients in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania on the science and clinical application of medical cannabis.

PAMCS is also working closely with TMCI and the Post Graduate Institute of Medicine (PIM) to develop an online CLE accredited cannabis related course curriculum.
