The National Institute for Newman Studies presents
The Third Annual Newman Legacy Lecture

The Prophetic Newman

By Dr. Brad Gregory
Thursday, April 3, 2014
5 p.m. | Duquesne Union Ballroom
Duquesne University

Join distinguished philosopher and historian Dr. Brad Gregory as he communicates Newman’s understanding of Christian truth, the development of doctrine, the consequences of the Reformation, and the challenges of modernism to Christianity that gave Newman an acute sense of “where things were headed.” Dr. Gregory will argue that Newman was correct in his assessment and more clearly understood our course of modernism.

About Dr. Brad Gregory
Dr. Gregory is the Dorothy G. Griffin Professor of Early Modern European History in the Department of History at The University of Notre Dame. He is the influential author of many books, including Reforming the Reformation: God’s Truth and the Exercise of Power. He has been awarded the Hiett Prize in the Humanities and the Kaneb Teaching Award from Notre Dame. His principal research interests include Christianity in the Reformation era and methodology and theory in the understanding of religion and history.
