

MINORITIES AND PHILOSOPHY READING SESSIONS FALL 17

All are welcome to attend. If you are interested in participating and would like to access the readings electronically, please e-mail Zach (slangerz@duq.edu).

Duquesne's MAP (Minorities and Philosophy) chapter offers guided reading sessions on Feminist Epistemology, Post-Structural Feminism, and Post-Colonial Theory in Fall Semester 2017. The purpose of MAP's guided reading sessions is to discuss issues concerning minority perspectives in philosophy while also introducing additional resources and readings on minority perspectives in philosophy that could be used in an introductory level course.

All sessions will be held on
TUESDAYS, 4:30–5:30 PM at 324 COLLEGE HALL

- September 12: Donna Haraway, Simians, Cyborgs, and Women: The Reinvention of Nature, "Situated Knowledges: The Science Question in Feminism and the Privilege of Partial Perspective"
- October 24: Rosi Braidotti, Transpositions: On Nomadic Ethics, "On style: by memory/by heart"
- November 7: Robert Young, White Mythologies: Writing History and the West, "Spivak, Decolonization, Deconstruction"
