

Four physics majors heading for National Lab internships this summer

Morgen Benninghoff (BA 2020), Victoria Leonard (BA 2020) and Justin Goodwill (BA 2018) will be interning at the Thomas Jefferson National Accelerator Facility in Newport News, VA. Madeline Galbraith (BS 2018) will be interning at Argonne National Lab in Argonne, IL.

The national lab internship trend at Duquesne started with Claire Saunders (BS 2015)'s HERE internship at Oak Ridge National lab, back in summer 2012. Since then, Duquesne physics majors have had a presence at national labs every summer (Oak Ridge, Ames Lab, Brookhaven, Fermilab and Jefferson Lab).

Congratulations to the 2017 cohort of National Lab interns!
