

Summer Abroad in India

July 2nd – 21st 2019

Research Ethics for Global Health (Undergraduate & Graduate)

Theme Areas: Social Justice & Global Diversity

The course may be of particular interest to students who are preparing for careers in healthcare or in health research, but is open and relevant to all students in the University including graduate students. This 3-week program will immerse students in the healthcare system and the culture of a tremendously diverse and culturally rich developing country: India.

Course Offerings

Students will register for HCE340/540 Research Ethics for Global Health and earn 3 credits for this course. HCE340 fulfills the Social Justice and Global Diversity theme area requirements. Undergraduate students may earn an optional additional 3 credits by registering for HCE330 Global Bioethics (Global Diversity theme area).

Program Highlights

- Local hospital visits, visits to medical research centers, and palliative care programs
- Weekend excursions to Agra (Taj Mahal) and Jaipur
- Extensive sightseeing in Delhi
- Close interactions with local healthcare professionals, researchers, and students
