At Duquesne University, we have a strong commitment to—and we highly value—diversity. We believe that equity and opportunity begin at home, and Duquesne University is the common home we share. Our commitment to diversity, equity and inclusion (DEI) can be witnessed every day on campus and in the classroom, as well among the University community of nearly 8,100 students with a broad range of backgrounds and experiences who represent all 50 states and over 80 countries.

We are large enough to be classified as a top national research university, but small enough that our faculty, staff, and students know each other by name. Duquesne’s mission is built on the seven markers of a Spiritan education:

1. Openness to the Spirit
2. Global Vision
3. Community of Respectful Relationships
4. Concern for the Poor
5. Commitment to Service
6. High Academic Standards
7. Academic Freedom

This inaugural Impact Report outlines the University’s past, present and future steps to promote diversity, equity, and inclusion. It is my hope that you learn more about the ongoing commitment to diversity, equity and inclusion that Duquesne exhibits, in alignment with its mission to “serve God by serving students,” as well as the University’s newest initiatives relating to DEI.

“It is the Spirit that Gives Life.”

Crystal McCormick Ware, M.S.Ed., G-CDF
Chief Diversity Officer
Senior Advisor to the President on Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion
Since the arrival of the Chief Diversity Officer in 2022, and with the help of numerous individuals and organizations, Duquesne has completed or launched numerous initiatives and enhancements to help improve inclusivity throughout the Duquesne community.

Those actions include:

A. Updated University’s Diversity Statement
In accordance with the mission statement of Duquesne University, we serve God by serving students through the maintenance of an ecumenical atmosphere embracing diversity and inclusion. Guided by the Congregation of the Holy Spirit and its members in over 60 countries, and consistent with our Catholic tradition, our commitment to inclusive excellence encompasses every aspect of personhood, including age, citizenship, disability, ethnicity, gender, race, religion, veteran status, socioeconomic status, and sexual orientation.

This commitment is the responsibility of every member of the Duquesne University community. On our campus and in all our efforts, broad ecumenism is both a response to the contemporary world and a timeless striving for the liberation of humanity from everything that offends dignity and freedom. In this way we advance the Reign of God in response to the Holy Spirit who gives life.

H. Launched DEI Certification Program

Duquesne University launched a program on September 8, 2022, for faculty and staff to earn certification in diversity, equity and inclusion. This opportunity was made possible through a partnership between the Inaugural Chief Diversity Officer and the Office of Human Resources, Learning and Development. The Diversity, Equity and Inclusion Certificate program was designed to reinforce the University’s mission of serving God by serving students so that they, in turn, may serve others.

Faculty and staff participants earn their certificate through a series of 10 fundamental level workshops offered over the course of the academic year. Each in-person course is approximately three hours long. The workshops address Duquesne policies as well as individual behaviors that help create an environment of opportunities for all at the University. Of the 10 workshops, seven core workshops are required. Participants then choose at least three elective workshops. Various content experts deliver the different courses. Participants gain an increased awareness of the importance of diversity, equity and inclusion, and develop tools and strategies to enhance success and belonging in academic and workplace settings.

Individuals who choose to earn the Diversity, Equity and Inclusion certification are asked to discuss it with their supervisor to align goals, outline general and specific relevance to their work at the University, and ensure adequate planning for the time commitment required. In addition, a summer-intensive program is offered that provides the core courses for those with scheduling conflicts.

In June 2023, 35 faculty and staff participants graduated from Cohort 1 while 40 completed the summer intensive program. In September 2023, 50 faculty and staff participants enrolled in Cohort 2. Graduates of the DEI Certification Program partake in various DEI activities and committees (such as Title IX) on campus.

J. Diversity Advocates Program Created for Faculty
   The Diversity Advocate program integrates best practices into full-time faculty search processes. Diversity Advocates are trained faculty volunteers who serve on faculty search committees as non-voting members. These advocates work with search committees to promote diverse applicant pools and implement candidate evaluation processes that treat all applicants with fairness and consistency.

   This program is a collaborative effort on the part of Academic Affairs, the Chief Diversity Officer, and Human Resources. The program depends on regular feedback and assessment to improve and increase its impact.

L. Observed Juneteenth Events

“Juneteenth is a federal holiday in the United States commemorating the emancipation of enslaved African-Americans. It is also often observed for celebrating African-American culture. Originating in Galveston, Texas, it has been celebrated annually on June 19 in various parts of the United States since 1865.” (Wikipedia)

Duquesne celebrated Juneteenth in 2022 with a virtual presentation by Samuel Black from the Heinz History Center, and in 2023, with a hybrid (on-campus and virtual) presentation by Dr. Johnathan White from Penn State Greater Allegheny.

Black’s presentation was titled “Emancipation Days: Juneteenth in History” and White’s presentation was titled “The Thirst–Juneteenth and the Existential Quest for Freedom.”

Additionally, the Gumberg Library published a LibGuide for the Duquesne community and community at large to have as a resource for Juneteenth titled: Welcome-Juneteenth: Freedom, LibGuides at Duquesne University.
