This presentation will provide an overview of the minority stress model and will demonstrate how the model can be used to design system-wide interventions that can be implemented in healthcare and education settings to reduce the negative stress processes encountered by LGBTQIA+ people.

KEYNOTE SPEAKER

Dr. Kyle Wilby,
Associate Professor at the College of Pharmacy,
Faculty of Health, Dalhousie University in Halifax,
Nova Scotia, Canada

To join, RSVP at duq.edu/globalpublic-health-speaker-2022 by Tuesday, February 15, 2022. A Zoom link will be emailed out the morning of the event.

For additional information, call 412.396.2651 or email africanstudies@duq.edu.