Equity, Ethics and Epidemiology
Lessons from the PANDEMIC Response

Friday, FEBRUARY 5
9:00 a.m. – 12:30 p.m.
ONLINE via Zoom

AGENDA

9:00 a.m.  Welcome and Introductions  Benjamin E. Wecht, M.A.

9:15 a.m.  The Epidemiology of COVID-19 and its Variants  David J. Dausey, Ph.D.
Executive Vice President and Provost, Duquesne University

9:45 a.m.  The Bioethics of Resource and Vaccine Allocation  Jacob M. Appel, MD, JD, MS, MPH
Associate Professor of Psychiatry and Medical Education, Mount Sinai Health System

10:30 a.m.  Break

10:45 a.m.  COVID-19 Communication: What Went Wrong?  Dr. Faina Linkov, PhD, MPH
Chair and Associate Professor of Health Administration and Public Health, Rangos School of Health Sciences, Duquesne University

11:25 a.m.  Duties of Healthcare Workers in Relation to Risk  Dr. Appel

11:45 a.m.  Panel Discussion:
Toward an Interdisciplinary Understanding of Ethical Issues in the Pandemic Response

Moderator:
Alison Colbert, PhD, PHCNS-BC, FAAN
Associate Professor, School of Nursing, Duquesne University
Panelists: All Speakers

12:30 p.m.  Adjourn