Women in Science at Duquesne University is proud to host

Susan Johnson, M.D., M.S.
Wednesday, October 17th
12:00 – 1:30 pm
Power Center Section C

Thriving amidst chaos:
Time management strategies for work and life

In this session, we will discuss several common time stressors faced by faculty and students, and concrete strategies you can try to address them. Among the topics are managing email more effectively, planning your time so that you address all your important goals, and how to move high priority work forward.

Dr. Susan Johnson, recently retired professor and administrator, University of Iowa

Lunch will be provided.
RSVP to WIS@duq.edu to attend.